BOURNE PARTNERS TO HOST 6TH ANNUAL GLOBAL HEALTHCARE EXECUTIVE SUMMIT

Healthcare CEO's convene in Charlotte to discuss the future of the industry

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Oct. 20, 2016 – The sixth annual Bourne Partners Global Healthcare Executive Summit will take place next week in Charlotte, N.C., with panelists from leading pharmaceutical, pharma services, specialty pharma, biotech companies and investors to present.

The conference, held at the renowned Quail Hollow Club, will feature top executives participating in panel discussions about a variety of trends and topics including global access to healthcare; healthcare services; consumer healthcare; data management and outsourcing.

The event is hosted by Bourne Partners, a leading healthcare and consumer healthcare investment banking, merchant banking, and investment firm.

“Over the past six years, the Bourne Partners Global Healthcare Executive Summit has established itself as a premiere healthcare event that attracts an elite group of attendees and panelists,” said Banks Bourne, CEO and Senior Managing Director of Bourne Partners. “The summit is part of our commitment at Bourne Partners to serve as an essential and informative resource for our partners, clients and investors.”

The summit will be attended by several global healthcare and consumer executives from a variety of disciplines, including the pharmaceutical, hospital and healthcare technology sectors, private equity investors, partners and investors.
